Compassionate and quality end-of-life care

WHO PAYS FOR HOSPICE?

Hospice care is funded by Medicare and is covered by most private insurance plans.

WHERE IS HOSPICE CARE PROVIDED?

Hospice care is not a “place,” but a type of specialized care. Hospice care is wherever the patient calls home – including their house, a family member’s home, or a care facility such as an assisted living or skilled nursing home.

WHAT IS HOSPICE?

Hospice care focuses on all aspects of an individual’s life and wellbeing when a life-limiting illness no longer responds to curative treatment. While patients are supported by effective comfort care, nature is gently allowed to take its course. Symptoms are successfully managed, utilizing the latest medical advances in end-of-life care, while emotional and spiritual needs, that often accompany physical decline, are also addressed.
